

35 % Decline in GDP affects the need for liquidity in the banking system.

Value of the U. S. dollar declines related to the growth of M1, that has no real economic value, because the new dollars are not backed by GDP economic growth.

Global confidence in U. S. dollar declines because the value of the dollar is backed by the strength of the U. S. economy.

